Teamwork

Skills that make good sense at work.

Solutions to the challenges of today are bigger than one person can handle. A strong team creates a standard of excellence that far exceeds what an individual can envision. Teamwork provides the quality edge.

Qualities of successful teams. Check off your strengths and circle the ones you want to improve.

Work smart ... be a team player.

celebrate successes rewards cooperation understanding of honest mistakes works at full potential able to give and ask for support positive customer relations handles crises effectively empowers team members utilizes diverse talents gets the job done exchanges resources acts accountable for outcomes respects unique traits of workers applies everybody's strengths compensates for weakness encourages the sharing of ideas sustains team spirit positive and optimistic commitment to the team goals able to ask for help when needed works to find the best solution builds alliances to improve quality fosters a sense of accomplishment inspires leadership avoids wasteful competition eager to help each other able to see both the pro and con builds a climate of mutual respect develops quality relationships constant flow of communication motivated by a pride in work over flow of creativity high levels of self-esteem residence to distress abundance of health and vitality courage to take risks sense of trust and safety commitment to quality valves group decision making utilizes different leadership styles responds to conflict positively feeling of self-confidence sees alternatives and is proactive accepting of new ideas ideas encourages disagreement welcomes change enthusiastic despite a failure loves to learn balances work and play works well together

Abundance Company

Bob Czimbal
2501 SE Madison Portland, OR 97214 503/232-3522
Bob@abundancecompany.com www.abundancecompany.com